

THE BUILDER

OREGON CITY KIWANIS CLUB

Chamber of Commerce Rooms
Thursday Noon

Oregon City, Oregon
April 25, 1940

This Week

William L. Finley of Jennings Lodge, Oregon's famous Naturalist, will be our guest speaker; and we'll have some pertinent remarks regarding stream pollution.

The President's
Weekly Fireside Chatter

It's Spring and we are pretty busy these days oiling up our lawn mowers, fishing reels and sore muscles. When things begin to grow and our blood flows a little faster we feel more kindly toward our fellow man--"we ain't mad at nobody."

This is the Season when Kiwanians like to get together and swap ideas on how to make this old world a better place to live in. That's why on May 4th (Saturday) a whole gang of Oregon City "Builders" and their families are heading for the Spring Conference at Tillamook.

The meeting starts at noon at Guild Hall and things keep moving right on through to a big banquet that evening. Some of the gang will stay over and take in the beach resorts--try out the trout streams, etc. the next day.

Make your plans now--we've a travelling outfit and we are on our way to "the land of the cheese, trees and ocean breeze."

The Klamath Falls Pelican

The Pelican has been making the rounds of the district for a number of years, yet it has never roosted at Oregon City. Let's have someone check the possibility of the Oregon City Club obtaining the bird this year. Tom Gregory is very interested in this.

Klamath Club has its Pelican, Eugene its Pioneer plaque. Why can't we start something and advertise our Club throughout the district? As a suggestion perhaps a plaque for attendance could be worked out. These ideas not only advertise our Club but promote interclub meetings. Better attendance ect. Let's have some suggestions from the members.

Roe Fulkerson comes to the aid of the Editor. See page 219, April issue of Kiwanis Magazine, last article on the page.

Yes, I'll have my dime ready.

Here and There

Stan Haberlach pacing up and down the road waiting for one of his trucks to show up.

When am I going to have that fish feed?

Bill Meyer's Shell wagon being towed to town. Water in the gas, maybe?

George Lenox doing some fancy driving on Main Street.

Roland Bell putting in a full day on Sundays.
